Julianne Hough Kissing Diego Boneta for 'Rock of Ages' Filming

© BRJ/Fame Pictures The former 'Dancing with the Stars' pro-dancer gets intimate with the 'Pretty Little Liars' actor while rollerblading for the filming of movie 'Rock of Ages'. Julianne Hough and Diego Boneta got affectionate during a sunny day in Miami, Florida on May 23. The two young stars held hands, cuddled, and kissed while rolling around on a pair of roller skates for the filming of "Rock of Ages", a remake of the 80's classic film of the same name.

Both of them rocked matching black shades and denim shorts. While Julianne matched her look with a bright-yellow top, Diego finished off his 80's fashion by putting on a black sleeveless shirt. The former pro-dancer of "Dancing with the Stars" pulled her blond hair into a high side pony tail.

Beside the rollerblading scene, Julianne and Diego also filmed a "wet" scene on the beach. She took off her top and shorts, hitting the surf and flaunting her well-toned body only in a tiny string bikini. She frolicked in the ocean with shirtless Diego who responds to her attention with an equally-affectionate gesture.
